CRAFTED BY NATURE
PERFECTED BY DESIGN.

A place where architecture, nature, and the art of living become one.

In Marrakech, Williams & Harper — Red Stone presents a rare address, designed for those who value the art of living as much as the precious privacy of a private estate. Set within a collection of 41 villas, contemporary architecture, landscaped gardens, and views of the Atlas Mountains create an environment where elegance, discretion, and serenity take centre stage.

Some places have a soul of their own.

Spanning more than 8 hectares, Red Stone embodies the spirit of grand private estates: a preserved setting, spaces dedicated to well-being and conviviality, and a community united by the same high standards of quality. Every detail is thoughtfully designed to make everyday life a truly natural and distinctive experience.

OUR STORY & VISION

Williams & Harper was founded by three friends of Moroccan heritage who grew up in France. Their vision for Red Stone draws on international experiences, including Dubai, Thailand and Malaysia, alongside an enduring connection to Morocco.

These influences inform an approach to residential design that brings together contemporary architecture, comfort, landscape and a considered way of living.

THE RED STONE EXPERIENCE

Private villas, landscaped gardens, pools, fitness, padel, convenient services and carefully planned communal spaces come together within a single residential estate.
Red Stone is conceived around a simple ambition: to make architecture, comfort, privacy and everyday living part of one coherent experience.
